Subject: Attendance of museums and galleries

Introduction:

The aim of this report is to assess the attendance of galleries British galleries and museums and to give some recommendations. It is based on data, collected on English museums for three years.

Positive:

As we can see from the statistics, the amount of people that ~~visit~~ ^{attend the} museums is increasing in the majority of them. For example, only 2.6 mln people visited the British Museum in 2013, while in 2017 the number was about 5.6 mln.

Negative:

The Natural History Museum and the Science Museum were very popular in 2014. The number of visitors was even bigger than in the other museums. Unfortunately, during the next three years, they lost their positions. This is illustrated by the fact that in 2014 they were attended by 5.7-5.8 mln visitors, but in 2017 this number dropped to 1.9-1.6 mln.

Comparison:

As the social statistics shows, there is a substantial tendency. In the past, people preferred going to the Natural History and Science Museums, but in the present, British Museum, National and Tate Galleries appeal ~~to~~ to them more. Some museums were substituted by the others.

Conclusion and recommendations:

To sum up, the amount of people that attend ^{different exhibitions} museums is rising, but some of the museums are losing their visitors. To avoid that, I would recommend not only to treat the visitors respectively, but also to make the exhibitions more interesting. Moreover, organising entertaining and educational programs for children will have a positive effect on the rates and attendance rate of the museum and its attendance.
